Recommended/Required Text: Journal articles will be assigned, which will be available to students through D2L. Additional material will be taken from The Biology of Cancer, but will be provided in class. Suggested textbook: The Biology of Cancer, 2nd edition, by Robert A. Weinberg.

Prerequisites: Students are required to have taken MCB 302 or 325 and earned at least a C. Students who are taking the pre-requisite course during the enrollment period will be evaluated at the beginning of MCB 425. Those students who have not earned a C in one of these courses will be dropped prior to the beginning of the semester.

Grades: Grades will be based on journal-article-based problem sets, journal summaries and exams. There will be no curving.

COURSE CALENDAR

Problem Sets
- Each week, students will discuss (in groups) problems posed to the class for a total of 26 problem sets throughout the semester. Students will turn in their individual answers to the problem sets.
- The top 20 scores (5 pts/assignment) will be counted for each student.

Total points for problems: 100
• Once per block, a summary of 1 research article can be turned in (individual). Two summaries are due during the semester, and one can be replaced.
• Summary to include the following:
  o Background summary
  o Hypothesis
  o 1 key experiment (multi-panel; including a description of the methodology and controls)
  o Conclusions of the article and how the 2 key experiments demonstrate the conclusions

_Total points for journal summaries: 100_

_Exams_
• There will be two exams during the semester, including a non-comprehensive final exam. Questions will be short-answer and each exam will be worth 50 points.
• Exams will be based on lecture material, which will be available on D2L.
• The date and time of the final exam or project, along with links to the Final Exam Regulations, [https://www.registrar.arizona.edu/courses/final-examination-regulations-and-information, and Final Exam Schedule http://www.registrar.arizona.edu/schedules/finals.htm](https://www.registrar.arizona.edu/courses/final-examination-regulations-and-information, and Final Exam Schedule http://www.registrar.arizona.edu/schedules/finals.htm)

_Midterm Regrades:_
Regrade requests must follow these steps:
1. Download the answer key (found on the weekly calendar), and compare your answer to the key.
2. On a separate piece of paper, explain why you should receive more points according to the key. If the points were simply added wrong and/or transferred to D2L incorrectly, just bring the original assignment to Dr. Schroeder and ask her to fix it.
3. Attach your request to your original assignment and turn in to Dr. Schroeder, who will review the request.
4. Regrade requests must be made within 2 weeks of the assignment.

_Make-up Assignments:_ Make-ups will only be given in cases of documented emergencies or Dean of Students-excused absences and must be requested within 48 hours of the assignment date. A maximum of 2 make-ups per assignment type will be allowed.

_Course objectives:_ By the end of this course, each student should be able to articulate mechanisms in significant detail regarding cancer and cancer metastases, and identify current efforts at targeting the cellular and molecular drivers of the disease. Students will also have attained skill in deriving and testing hypothesis, and experimental interpretation. Students will also be able to read, interpret, and contextualize research articles on cancer mechanisms and treatments.

University Policy on Absences:
The UA policy regarding absences for any sincerely held religious belief, observance or practice will be accommodated where reasonable, http://policy.arizona.edu/human-resources/religious-accommodation-policy.

Absences pre-approved by the UA Dean of Students (or Dean Designee) will be honored. See: https://deanofstudents.arizona.edu/absences

The UA’s policy concerning Class Attendance, Participation, and Administrative Drops is available at: http://catalog.arizona.edu/policy/class-attendance-participation-and-administrative-drop

Participating in the course and attending lectures and other course events are vital to the learning process. As such, attendance is required at all lectures and discussion section meetings. Students who miss class due to illness or emergency are required to bring documentation from their health-care provider or other relevant, professional third parties. Failure to submit third-party documentation will result in unexcused absences.

Special needs and accommodations:
Our goal in this classroom is that learning experiences be as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience physical or academic barriers based on disability, please let me know immediately so that we can discuss options. You are also welcome to contact the Disability Resource Center (520-621-3268) to establish reasonable accommodations. For additional information on the Disability Resource Center and reasonable accommodations, please visit http://drc.arizona.edu.

If you have reasonable accommodations, please plan to meet with me by appointment or during office hours to discuss accommodations and how my course requirements and activities may impact your ability to fully participate. Please be aware that the accessible table and chairs in this room should remain available for students who find that standard classroom seating is not usable.

University Policy on Student Conduct:
I. The Arizona Board of Regents’ Student Code of Conduct, ABOR Policy 5-308, prohibits threats of physical harm to any member of the University community, including to one’s self. See: http://policy.arizona.edu/threatening-behavior-students.

II. Students are encouraged to share intellectual views and discuss freely the principles and applications of course materials. However, graded work/exercises must be the product of independent effort unless otherwise instructed. Students are expected to adhere to the UA Code of Students are encouraged to share intellectual views and discuss freely the principles and applications of course materials. However, graded work/exercises must be the product of independent effort unless otherwise instructed. Students are expected to adhere to the UA Code of Academic Integrity as described in the UA General Catalog.

The University Libraries have some excellent tips for avoiding plagiarism, available at http://www.library.arizona.edu/help/tutorials/plagiarism/index.html. Selling class notes and/or other course materials to other students or to a third party for resale is not permitted without the instructor’s express written consent. Violations to this and other course rules are subject to the Code of Academic Integrity and may result in course sanctions. Additionally, students who use D2L or UA e-mail to sell or buy these copyrighted materials are subject to Code of Conduct Violations for misuse of student e-mail addresses. This conduct may also constitute copyright infringement.

III. The University is committed to creating and maintaining an environment free of discrimination; see http://policy.arizona.edu/human-resources/nondiscrimination-and-anti-harassment-policy

Computer use during class
Computers/electronic devices may be used during class for the purpose of enhancing a student's understanding/knowledge of the day's topic. They may NOT be used during class for non-class related activities.

   To foster a positive learning environment, students may not text, chat, make phone calls, play games, read the newspaper or surf the web during lecture and discussion. Students are asked to refrain from disruptive conversations with people sitting around them during lecture. Students observed engaging in disruptive activity will be asked to cease this behavior. Students who continue to disrupt the class will be asked to leave lecture or discussion and may be reported to the Dean of Students.

   Note: The information contained in the course syllabus, other than the grade and absence policies, may be subject to change with reasonable advance notice, as deemed appropriate by the instructor.
